

SOLDIERS SWARM ABOUT STATE HOUSE AT FRANKFORT, KY.

Governor Taylor Refuses to Allow Legislature to Meet.

GOEBEL IS STILL ALIVE BUT CHANCES AGAINST HIM.

He is Suffering Great Pain and His Physicians Declare That He Must Die—Soldiers Guarding Governor's Private Office—Democrats Guard I. C. Beckham, Goebel's Political Heir—Gov. Taylor Adjourns the Legislature to Feb. 6 at London, Ky.—Democrat Members Prevented by Soldiers From Holding a Session in the Opera House—It is Feared That Civil War and Anarchy Will Follow—Goebel Very Near Deaths Door Today.

Frankfort, Jan. 31.—[Special Telegram]—At noon Senator Goebel appeared to be sinking. Constant hot water applications are made to keep his body warm.

Two ministers called to administer the last death rites to Mr. Goebel.

Frankfort, Jan. 31.—[Special Telegram]—Senator Goebel cannot outlive the day, say his physicians. Governor Taylor has declared that a state of civil war exists, and adjourned the legislature. Officers and judges are fleeing from the city. A legislative session will probably be called to order in Louisville tomorrow.

Frankfort, Jan. 31.—[Special Telegram]—Gov. Taylor this morning adjourned the assembly and refused to allow the legislature to meet in the capitol building.

The state house grounds and buildings swarmed with soldiers. Two galling guns were stationed in front of the capitol. Guards were stationed at every gate and no one was permitted to pass through without a permit.

Fifty soldiers spent the night in the reception room, guarding the governor's private office, where he spent the night with ex-Gov. Bradley.

At 10:30 o'clock this morning Goebel's physician said that his patient was suffering great pain and the chances were decidedly against him.

Still Alive But Sinking.
Frankfort, Jan. 31.—[Special Telegram]—At 9:20 o'clock Arthur Goebel said his brother seemed to be doing well. Dr. Hume said: "Goebel seems to be better now than he was yesterday."

At five o'clock this morning Dr. Morgan Vance said the fact that Goebel had not rallied during the past six hours showed his condition to be desperate in the extreme as he was bleeding internally. Goebel's pulse registered one hundred and twenty beats to the minute.

Legislature Adjourned by Force.
Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 31.—[Special Telegram]—Governor Taylor adjourned the legislature to meet at London, Ky., February 6. The democratic members marched in a body to the capitol this morning, but were met by a hundred soldiers lined up in firing order. The legislators seemed awe stricken, but several of the members rushed past the soldiers into the hall and seized the record books.

The speaker immediately called the legislature to meet in the opera house. They started for that place, but were turned back by another detail of soldiers.

Followed by Soldiers
The speaker and his followers finally returned to the hotel followed by the soldiers. The adjutant general declared that the troops would follow them wherever they went and that if they attempted to hold a session he would follow them into Goebel's room if that became necessary.

Goebel's room is directly above the hotel lobby and he could distinctly hear the rabble. There is some talk among the democratic members of holding a session at Louisville, Lexington or Newport.

Democrat Guard Beckham.
The democrats are keeping exceedingly close watch over the person of J. C. W. Beckham, the contestant for the position of lieutenant governor. In the event of the death of Goebel he is their only hope, and they declare with earnestness that if Goebel dies there will be no governor but Beckham. He is kept in his room at the Capital hotel and will be guarded very closely until the trouble is over. He declares he needs no guard, but the democrats pay no attention to his remonstrances.

To Adjourn the Legislature.
The leading democrats of the state who are assembled here are discussing the advisability of adjourning the legislature to Louisville or some other place to finish out the session. The constitution provides that this can be done by proclamation of the governor on request of the legislature. The utter helplessness of the democratic legislature is keenly felt on all sides here.

Stirred Up Frankfort
The cowardly attempt to assassinate Senator Goebel has stirred Frankfort as nothing has ever done before in its history as a state capital. Nothing but the counsels of the cooler heads among the enraged and excited legislature has prevented an uprising of the people and the complete extermination of the hundreds or so mountaineers here and the men who are responsible for their presence.

Troops Moving to Frankfort
Three hundred men, of the Second Kentucky infantry were camped around the capitol buildings last night, and 1,500 more arrived before noon today.

Word was received that the Louisville legion, the first Kentucky infantry, would bring with it the famous Gatling gun that has figured so extensively in the evidence presented in the gubernatorial contest case.

All through the building in which the adjutant general's office is situated last night lay sleeping soldiers, every man with his cartridge belt still buckled around his waist. Outside the door the rifles were stacked, sentries walking beats beside them.

Rumors of Armed Bodies
Rumors were thick that armed bodies of men were forming upon the outskirts of town and that during today they would pass into the city just for a little bombardment.

Colonel Williams, commanding the troops gathered around the statehouse took very little stock in any of these stories, but he was none the less ready to join in the "little bombardment" whenever it proved agreeable to the other side.

Gov. Taylor Won't Talk
Governor Taylor positively refused to discuss the shooting of Goebel today. He said that in the present excited condition of the people anything he might say would be misconstrued and might be misquoted. Therefore in order to be on the safe side he would say nothing.

Colonel Bradley would not say what he intended to do. He and Sweeney will remain in the statehouse square under guard of the soldiers until the excitement abates. It is freely predicted that Bradley will be the next man to be shot.

Board Decides For Goebel.
The dramatic climax of the assassination came in the decision of the contest board that Mr. Goebel was legally elected governor, which it made at its meeting at its city hall last night. There was little discussion of the case, nearly all the members of the board saying that their minds were already made up and that all they wanted to do was to vote. By a vote of 10 to 1, Representative Garber voting in the negative, Mr. Goebel was declared elected governor, and by a vote of 9 to 2 Mr. Beckham was declared elected lieutenant governor.

Injunction by Republicans
Whether the democrats will get the offices at once is, however, another matter, leaving all questions of force out of account. It has been decided by the republicans to apply to the United States circuit court at Cincinnati today for an injunction restraining Messrs. Goebel and Beckham from taking their seats, and the battle will then be continued before Judge Tufts of that court.

Governor Taylor and his attorneys expect a temporary injunction and an ultimate victory. The grounds upon which they will ask the injunction are the prejudice of the legislative body, the alleged unfitness of several members of the contest board to sit in judgment upon the case, and other grounds which are not made public.

GOEBEL IN LAW AND POLITICS

Once a Partner of John G. Carlisle and Later State Senator.

Covington, Ky., Jan. 30.—This city, the home of Goebel since his youth, has been in a state of great excitement today since the shooting at Frankfort became known.

Senator William Goebel was born in a small hamlet in Sullivan county, Pennsylvania. With his father and mother he came to Covington when a boy. His parents opened a boarding house. William started to learn the jewelry business in Cincinnati, but after a short time expressed a desire to study law. He entered the office of Stevenson & Myers about 1873. After the dissolution of this firm, August 10, 1874, he continued with the firm of Stevenson & O'Hara. Afterward he became the law partner of Gov. John W. Stevenson and later the law partner of John G. Carlisle, the ex-speaker, senator, secretary and treasurer. Goebel was prominent as a member of the democratic state committee for years and always at conventions. The democratic state convention at Louisville last June that nominated Senator Goebel for governor over Col. Stone and Gen. Hardin was one of the most notable gatherings of the kind in the history of the state.

Senator Goebel was the author of the present election law in Kentucky, a measure which has attracted unusual attention on account of its peculiar provisions. On the returns of the county boards, afterward affirmed by the state board of elections, under the Goebel election law, the certificate of election was given to Taylor, the contestee.

Goebel's advent in politics was as a candidate for state senator, to fill the unexpired term of J. W. Bryan who was elected lieutenant governor with Beckham in 1887. He has since continuously represented Kenton county in the senate. He is a man who despises any ostentation whatever. He studiously refused to have his picture taken up to his candidacy for governor and persistently refused to write an autobiography of his life and none is found in the many histories and lives of famous men of Kentucky. He has made his home for years with Mrs. M. Bryson on 6th street. He is 44 years of age and unmarried.

Goebel is a fearless man and has had various encounters, the most notable one being with John L. Stanford, president of the Farmers and Traders' bank of this city, April 11, 1895, in which Stanford was killed by Goebel.

FRANKFORT UNDER MARTIAL LAW

Many Stories Afloat Concerning the Goebel Shooting Yesterday.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 31.—Frankfort was under martial law at midnight. The capitol building and executive grounds are protected by heavy guards of troops.

There are many stories afloat concerning the shooting, but weight of the evidence given by the witnesses to the unfortunate affair is to the effect that five shots were fired at him from a window or from windows of the state house, and that the would-be assassin or assassins were stationed in the building for the purpose of murdering the senator as he approached the capitol building.

One Bullet Strikes Him.

Only one ball struck Mr. Goebel, entering the right breast, passing through his body, and coming out just under the right shoulder blade. Mr. Goebel reeled and fell an instant after the first shot was fired.

Harland Whittaker was arrested on suspicion of having shot Mr. Goebel and taken under heavy guard to jail. Three revolvers were found in his pockets, but all were fully loaded, and none had the appearance of having recently been discharged. He denied strenuously that he had fired the shots and said that he did not know Mr. Goebel by sight. There is a general disposition to believe Whittaker is innocent. Many persons are under suspicion, but no other arrests have yet been made.

A careful examination of Mr. Goebel's wound showed that the bullet had pierced the right lung, and that there was much internal bleeding. His pulse was very weak, and artificial blood was pumped into his veins, which revived him somewhat. Dr. Vance and other physicians agree that Mr. Goebel can live only by a miracle.

Commonwealth Is Stirred.

The commonwealth is stirred throughout its length and breadth over the affair, and the state capital is a scene of great excitement and turmoil. Special trains are arriving here every hour, bringing either soldiers or armed bands of citizens, who are coming here either as friends of the wounded politician or of Gov. Taylor.

Just what the outcome of the shooting will be no one can predict. Every one fears the worst. It is a source of

LAWYERS NEARLY COME TO BLOWS

Hot Blood Stirred Up in the Milwaukee Street Railway Case.

MAYOR ROSE ATTACKED

He is Charged With Perjury and Falsehood by Attorneys Timlin and Toohey.

Mayor Presents an Affidavit Charging Them With Conspiracy for Political Effect—Chief Executive May Have to Prove the Charge in a Criminal Court—Plankinton Bank Case Sensation—Harry Dunn Found Guilty of Murder.

Milwaukee, Jan. 31.—The street railway injunction cases before Judge Ludwig are getting into a state of "inextricable interment" which would demand the services of a "Philadelphia lawyer" to unravel. It is now held that the so-called Trentlage case, which covers about the same questions involved in the Schwartzburg and Paine cases, and which is still before the court, continues the injunction in force. But this injunction was issued after the council had passed the ordinance in the face of the Schwartzburg injunction that was dissolved yesterday.

There is a difference of opinion, but the weight of legal authority is that the question of the jurisdiction of the court over the council has not yet been decided and will not be until after the hearing of the contempt proceedings before the supreme court Feb. 3.

Attorneys Nearly Come to Blows

In the meantime, the superior court is witnessing some exciting scenes. One of the most sensational of the many startling situations that the fight has given rise to took place in the court room yesterday, when Attorneys Timlin and Ryan nearly came to blows. The clash came over an affidavit sworn to by Mayor Rose, which was read by Mr. Ryan. It put both Mr. Timlin and Mr. Toohey, his colleague, in a passion, and both denounced the mayor and reflected on Mr. Ryan, before whom the affidavit was drawn and who presented it to the court.

The affidavit was prepared for use in Schwartzburg case, but as that was out of sight it was made to do duty in the Trentlage case. The affidavit asserted that Mr. Timlin and Mr. Toohey were engaged in a conspiracy for political effect, and for this purpose were engaged in trying to prevent the passage of the ordinance; the affidavit also charged that Mr. Timlin had incited the papers to publish statements against the ordinance.

Falsehood and Perjury.

Mr. Timlin said that the statements were falsehoods and perjury, and the mayor would be brought to answer for them in a criminal court.

Mr. Timlin charged Mr. Ryan in not being sincere in his explanation of the affidavits, and said the court records could not be abused with wanton and scandalous attacks on attorneys.

Judge Ludwig, after the passions of the attorneys had an opportunity to calm down, said he would take the affidavit under advisement and decide tomorrow whether he would permit it to be placed on the record.

Mr. Trentlage, the petitioner in the injunction case bearing his name was allowed to withdraw his name and that of the Linden Land Company, by its president, C. B. Whitnall, was substituted.

Plankinton Bank Case.

The creditors of the Plankinton Bank have filed in the circuit court objections to the report of Assignee Plankinton. The amount to which objections are taken foot up about $1,500,000. The objections include expenditures made by Mr. Plankinton in managing the affairs of the bank, to money expended by him for attorneys' fees, and also includes the amount of credits in the hands of Mr. Plankinton for notes and securities when he surrendered his trust as assignee.

Harry Dunn Found Guilty.

The jury in the case of Harry Dunn, charged with the murder of Emil Lieber, a saloon keeper on the evening of October 3, 1898, returned a verdict of guilty yesterday after being out all night. Dunn was arrested at Portage shortly after the crime and has been in jail over a year. He will be taken to Wau-pun Thursday.

Schley Is at Montevideo.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The South Atlantic squadron, composed of the Chicago, Montgomery and Wilmington, reached Montevideo, Uruguay, Tuesday, from Ensenada, Argentina. The warships are reported to the navy department to have been placed in five days' quarantine by the authorities. The announcement came from Admiral Schley, and indicates that the bubonic plague, reported by him to be at Rosario, 190 miles inland, is also at Ensenada.

SALOONS IN IOWA ARE CLOSED

Liquor Men Bow to Court's Decision and Seek New Petitions.

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 31.—Every saloon in Des Moines is closed today as a result of yesterday's supreme court decision. The saloon men agreed on this course as the only safe one. The board of supervisors met today to canvass the new petition of consent recently filed to take the place of the one held illegal and void. The Ministerial association and Anti-Saloon league requested a postponement of ten days until they could prepare their showing of the insufficiency of the new petition. The time was granted and the saloons will remain closed meantime and until the petition is approved.

Waterloo, Iowa, Jan. 31.—Waterloo is today for the first time since Iowa's mulct law became effective without a saloon. The twelve saloons of the city were closed at noon today by agreement of the proprietors as a result of the supreme court decision handed down at Des Moines yesterday.

BIG FIRE IN A KANSAS TOWN

Business Portion of Winfield Destroyed—Many People Homeless.

Winfield, Kan., Jan. 31.—Fire destroyed the business portion of Winfield, a town of 6,000 inhabitants, forty miles south of here last night, and threatened the city building and county jail. The Mackey block, a three-story building erected at a cost of $125,000, and its entire contents were burned, and a hundred people were made homeless. The Arlington hotel was destroyed, and the Rutter livery barn was burned with all the horses.

BRITISH SUSTAIN TWO MORE DEFEATS

Boers Scatter Column Marching to the Relief of Mafeking—Gen. French Beaten.

London, Jan. 31.—Two more defeats in south Africa are recounted in the latest dispatches from the seat of war. Plumer's column, moving to the relief of Mafeking, met the Boers in large numbers near Crocodile creek and was defeated. General French attempted a reconnaissance on a large scale to the north of Colesberg and after a brief engagement with the burghers retired to his camp.

Nothing of importance is reported from Buller's army. It is feared that the forces routed at Spion Kop will find retreat cut off and may have to fight their way back to their old position. A dash through the Boer lines now seems the only hope for the Ladysmith garrison, as the attempt to relieve the town seems to have been abandoned.

Mobilization of Fleet Planned.

It is now known that the cabinet devoted much of its discussion on Saturday to the mobilization of the fleet. Nothing was settled except that, until further security to the home coasts has been obtained by naval preparations, the Eighth division shall not be sent to South Africa.

On Monday the admiralty issued orders that the channel squadron, instead of leaving Portland this week for Gibraltar, as previously directed, shall assemble February 5 off Eddystone and proceed to Bantay for a fortnight's exercise off the Irish coast, thus keeping in home water for a time.

This decision to delay the Eighth division at a time when reinforcements are so urgently required may mean only that transports are not yet available and that the division will embark when the shipping is ready.

Interference by Europe Is Feared

The mobilization of reserve warships, if such a course shall be determined upon, would be of utmost importance. There is nothing in the intelligence possessed by the public to cause the cabinet's prolonged discussion of this matter and the inference is that the fleet may be mobilized as a general warning to other countries to keep their hands off the Transvaal situation, or the ministry may have definite knowledge that the neutral powers purpose to take some advantages elsewhere while England is busy in south Africa.

One thing is certain—10,000 men, all ready to go to south Africa, are detained for reasons of which the public has no knowledge.

FIVE AMERICANS ARE KILLED

Shot by Filipinos While Acting as Advance Scouts Near Subig.

EITHER ANARCHY OR CIVIL WAR

Gravest Fears Expressed Over Situation in Kentucky.

BLOOD LIKELY TO FLOW

Bitter Political Partisans on Both Sides Threaten to Meet Force by Force.

Democrats Declare They Will Have No Compromise With Taylor—He Cannot Remain as a Governor of Kentucky—Legislature and Courts Will Not Recognize Him—Blackburn Cannot Secure His Seat in the United States Senate.

Washington, Jan. 31.—What will be the political effect of the attempted assassination of Goebel? That is a question which all Washington is discussing. The gravest fears are expressed that if Goebel dies, either anarchy or civil war, and possibly both, will follow in Kentucky. Democrats from that state counsel peaceful methods, and so do their correspondents from whom they have heard by wire or telephone.

But if Goebel perishes it is admitted that a most hazardous and perilous situation will follow. There can be no doubt that the democrats, who control the legislature, will declare Goebel elected if he lives till such action can be taken, and that they will declare Taylor was not elected if Goebel dies.

There is a difference of opinion as to whether or not the democratic candidate for lieutenant governor can in this case assume the governorship. If not, and Taylor attempts to hold the office, the legislature will not recognize him, and the courts in all probability will not recognize him. In such an event Kentucky would be without a governor and anarchy would follow. It is attempting to hold the office to which he claims he was elected, Taylor attempts to use force, or to call in the assistance of the federal authorities to uphold him, it is feared, and apparently with good reason, that force will be met by force and blood will flow.

The facts which tend to aggravate and embitter the present difficulty are:

1. Democrats, forming their opinions upon such meager accounts of the assassination as have been received up to this time are inclined to hold Taylor morally responsible for his crime. They assert that even if he did not have personal knowledge of the plot, the encouragement given by him to the importation of mountaineers and ruffians, armed and secreted about the statehouse, led directly to the attempted assassination. Angered by this belief, which further information may confirm and heighten or tend to allay, it is apparent that the leading Democrats of Kentucky, so far as their sentiments are reflected in Washington, will have no compromise with Taylor. No matter what Goebel's fate may be, he cannot be governor and receive recognition as such, nor will his pretensions be admitted to pass unchallenged.

2. Taylor refuses to sign the certificate of Joe Blackburn's election as United States senator unless the democrats recognize him as governor, and as this is impossible and as no other man appears to have legal claim to the governorship, in the case of Goebel's death it is difficult to see how Mr. Blackburn is to get into the senate. Thus another complication and cause for bitterness is added to a situation already full of dire possibilities. No Kentuckian to be found in Washington claims to be able to foresee the future in his state, but all Kentuckians are fearful that civil war and bloodshed impend.

MARCH 21 WILL BE THE DATE

Chairman Treat Will Call Rep. State Convention on That Date

Milwaukee, Jan. 31.—Chairman Treat of the republican state central committee will be in the city tomorrow, when the call will be issued for the republican state convention for the election of delegates to the national convention.

Upon his arrival in the city Mr. Treat will make public March 21 as the date of the convention. He will also make arrangements for the holding of the convention and for a convention hall. There is some difference of opinion as to whether the Exposition building or the Fabst theater should be secured, but it is understood the choice will probably fall on the Exposition building. Appointments will also be made of the convention officers.

JAMES A. RUGGLES WRITES FROM LUZON

FORMER JANESVILLE BOY IS NOW IN PHILIPPINES.

Expects Soon to be a Captain—Has
Had Command of His Company
Since He Has Been on the Island—
Tells of the People and the Country in an Interesting Letter.

James A. Ruggles, a former well known Janesville resident who left years has resided in Rockford, is now on the island of Luzon as first lieutenant in the Thirty-fifth infantry, U. S. V. in the Philippines. Mr. Ruggles writes as follows:

We disembarked at Manila, Nov. 8, at 9 a. m., after remaining on shipboard at anchor in the bay, for two days. Had very little chance to see the city, except what we could see from on board the barge, passing up the Pasig river to the railroad station. I think it must be a very interesting city.

At 11 a. m. we were crowded into the cars, which are small (narrow gauge), and made after the English fashion, with side doors and platform. We proceeded slowly about seventy-five miles north to San Fernando, which was as far as the railroad was in our control at that time. The line was lined with our troops and also numerous wrecks.

At San Fernando we started our march. I was given the command of the rear guard and of the baggage train. The train consists of two-wheeled carts drawn by two water buffalo to each cart, hitched tandem. These buffalo are the most patient and hard working animals I ever saw. All they ask is their "chow-chow" and a chance to take a bath every two hours during the heat of the day.

Without this bath they refuse to work and soon go mad. They have a fierce appearance with their immense horns and small, beady eyes. But they are very gentle. We often see four or five children sitting on the back of one, taking a ride or while the animal is grazing. It is also a common sight to see a large, white heron and a blackbird or two perched on the back of one. The rainy season was still on and the road was nothing but a trail of mud which seemed without bottom in places, and so sticky that it was often necessary for two or three men to pull some comrade out of it.

Sometimes I had to take the animals out and put thirty or forty men to a cart, with ropes, and drag it through the mud for a quarter of a mile at a time and return and perform the same operation on each of the twenty-five other carts. On the last four miles coming into Arayat, sixteen miles from San Fernando, we spent eleven hours of the hardest kind of work. The men never complained but were very good natured about it all. We remained in Arayat nearly four weeks and then marched eighteen miles to San Isidro and from there fourteen miles to this place. We have been sent out from time to time on trips into the mountains and smaller towns in the surrounding country.

People are intelligent. The people are much more intelligent than I had expected to find. They are very clean in their persons and the women are highly moral—far ahead of the people of Puerto Rico in that respect. They wear very few clothes, and the children up to 12 and 14 often wear nothing. The women seem to do nearly all the work, pounding up the rice and grinding it into flour, as well as working in the fields.

In the towns and villages through which we have passed or been stationed in, there were very few people left and they were all women, children and old men. A great majority of the men seemed to expect to be thrown into prison and perhaps shot and also expected to find their homes burned. They soon see that nothing of the kind happens and come flocking into town again a happy lot.

In Short Clothes. It is told of a certain English bishop that, while dining at the house of one of his friends, he was pleased to observe that he was the object of marked attention from the son of his host, whose eyes were firmly riveted upon him. After dinner the bishop approached the boy and asked:

"Well, my young friend, you seem to be interested in me. Do you find that I am all right?"

"Yes, sir," said the boy, with a glance at the bishop's knee-breeches. "You're all right; only (hesitatingly) won't your mamma let you wear long trousers yet?"

GAVE PROGRESSIVE SUPPER

Ladies of Christ Church Entertained
Many Hungry Ones Last Evening.

Between seventy-five and one hundred people participated in the progressive supper given last evening by the ladies of Christ church. The feast was served in the parish house and was served in "relays." Fourteen guests were then seated at table No. 1 and after a ten minute repast they moved to table No. 2 where they enjoyed the next number on the menu. Four tables were set. Each table was tastefully decorated and the usual first class menu prevailed. The ladies have good reason to feel proud of their efforts in the progressive heart supper line.

COLD WAVE WILL LAST A FEW DAYS

Records Show Coldest Day of the Season Today—It Was 12 Below
This Morning.

The little quicksilver vein in the thermometer fell lower yesterday than on last Sunday and persons in the streets were of the opinion that it was the coldest day of the year. The impression was due, doubtless, to the icy moisture with which the northwest wind was soaked and the speed of that same ungentle zephyr.

The thermometer stood five below zero last night in Janesville and this morning it registered twelve below making it the coldest day of the season so far.

Winnipeg rejoiced—or possibly it didn't—it being the coldest spot in America yesterday. Twenty-two on the north side of nothing was the way the reading was telegraphed.

The cold wave will last a day or two longer and then gradually grow kinder. It covers the upper Mississippi valley just now like a blanket only it has not the principal attribute of a blanket. Snow is not in sight and persons with winter vehicles must content themselves for awhile with the spectacle of bare, frozen roads and to breathe dust instead of melting the flakes with their warm breath as they try to enter the lungs.

Food, fuel and clothing were in demand at the headquarters of the charitable concerns yesterday. The keen wind lashed the poor bitterly and public places where warmth could be had without expenditure were sought eagerly.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 31.—Suit for $50,000 has been filed by Muswick & Co., cut-rate druggists of this city, against prominent druggists of this city, charging them with conspiracy to boycott the plaintiff. It is charged that the defendants refuse to purchase from wholesale dealers who sell to the plaintiff.

MERRY MASKERS AT N. O. W. BALL

DELIGHTFUL PARTY HELD AT THE ARMORY.

Many of the Costumes Were Worthy of Special Mention—This Well Known
Club Can Always be Relied On Giving Nothing But the Best—
Danced Till One O'clock.

Members of the N. O. W. club have good reason to feel proud of their annual masquerade ball which was held last evening at the Armory. It proved to be a success in every sense of the word. The costumes were unique and as a whole were not of the cheap order. Many deserved special mention. The committee in charge allowed no one on the floor but maskers till the time to unmask arrived. There were fully one hundred masked on the floor. When the grand march took place at 11:15 o'clock many who were masked did not participate. Many spectators were in attendance both on the floor and in the balcony. The grand march was led by George Souleman in charge of eight person attired convicts who proved to be Ernest E. Clemons, Alfred P. Jerg, Will Kober, Will Bowen, Ed. H. Murdock, G. R. Keefe, Edward Connell and Edward Palmer.

Then came a ghostly sheet and pillow case crowd who proved to be a Beloit delegation: Mr. and Mrs. G. Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. William Cronk, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Barnard and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rossow.

A burlesque on Prof. Johnny Smith's orchestra was good. The young men who carried out the idea were: John Kobelin, Lou R. Conger, Benj. Plowright, Will W. Menzies, Charles Butler and Millard F. Ide, Jr.

The strolling musicians consisted of Mrs. Lou R. Conger, Misses Lulu E. Winkley, Mae S. Winkley, Matel Plowright, Mabel Sanborn, Mammie Scanlan and Master Alvin Eustis, of Beloit.

As soon as the unmask order was given out, the usual number of surprises followed. Then everybody danced until the one o'clock hour. Prof. Johnny Smith and his excellent orchestra was in attendance.

The committee in charge consisted of Fred H. Koebelin, Will Hemming, A. C. Jenking and Lou Paul of this city; Charles B. Barnard and Will A. Rossow of Beloit.

WORK OF THE GRIM REAPER.

William Horace Bump.

William Horace Bump died at his late home three miles southeast of Albany, Monday morning, Jan. 22, at 7:45 after a week's illness of typhoid fever. He was born at the old homestead in the town of Magnolia, February 9, where he grew to manhood, and had lived until the 19th day of February he would have been twenty-nine years old. He was a son of the late William Horace Bump. Willie as he was familiarly called was the youngest of nine children, and was naturally a favorite in the home circle. He had a mild and sunny disposition which won for him many friends, and his untimely taking off is a crushing blow to the heart-stricken family.

Besides a young wife, he leaves two little boys, Ray Ellsworth, and F. yette William, to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate husband and father; also an aged mother, four sisters and two brothers, they being Helen F. wife of George W. Thurman of Albany; Harriet O., wife of Albert Broughton of Broadhead; George L., who resides on a farm in the town of Albany; Adolphia E., wife of W. E. Webb, also of Albany; Amy B., wife of R. Anderson, who resides at the old homestead in the town of Magnolia; and Dwight E., of Decatur, Ill., conductor on the Wabash and Illinois Central railroad. Funeral services were held at the house Wednesday morning, Jan. 24, at 10:30, and were conducted by the Rev. Brennan of Albany. He was buried in the West Magnolia cemetery by the side of his father, sister Alice, and brother Frank. The pall bearers were Jay Harrington, Walter Broughton, Will Phillips, Elmer Phillips, Owen Atkinson and Russell Atkinson, young friends of the deceased.

NORTH JOHNSTOWN.

North Johnstown, Jan. 31.—B. Brown and Mrs. Annie Farnsworth of Fort Atkinson visited the families of Mrs. H. Tooker and Paul Young last week. The annual church meeting will be held in connection with the covenant meeting Saturday afternoon. Rev. A. Longfield went to Evansville Tuesday to visit her mother and returned Thursday. Bills are out for an auction sale on the farm of the late George Roe Thursday. Mrs. Helen Booth returned from Waukesha Thursday. Fred Woodstock is a victim of mumps. The howling blasts of the past few days are a duplicate of the weather we had a year ago. There was a large crowd at the auction of Charles Fox's Friday and the sale proved quite satisfactory. Mr. Fox's family intend to move to their new home at Milton Junction this week and Mr. Nunn will take possession of the farm. We do not like to lose our old neighbors. Mrs. Kate Bacon and daughter Laura and Mrs. G. E. Osborn and children spent Friday at H. R. Osborn's. Carl Newton has purchased a new feed grinder. On account of the bad weather there were no services at the church Sunday. Miss Lottie Mould, who has been with the family of Mrs. H. Tooker several weeks, returned to her home at Koshkonong Saturday. August Kruger and wife have moved from Mrs. Roe's farm to the home of his father at Johnstown. Earl Newton of Koshkonong was at the home of his parents here Wednesday. Remember the W. C. T. U. meeting with Mrs. Richard Cary Thursday afternoon. It seems passing strange that in this day and age of the world's civilization and progress there could be found in the city of Janesville fifty-five men who would betake themselves to the city of Madison and spend the hours of the night in witnessing a cock fight. Verily, whither are we drifting?

PARENTS FREEZE THEIR CHILD

Infant Is Sacrificed in the Belief That the Almighty Commanded

Ottumwa, Iowa, Jan. 31.—Crazed by religion, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spencer, residing six miles northwest of Lovilla, Monroe county, sacrificed their infant child yesterday in the fanatic belief that they been called upon by God to make this demonstration of their piety. All the clothing was removed from the infant and thus in its denuded condition it was held out of doors until death ensued from the extreme cold.

The father held the child in his arms and during the time which he remained thus exposed to the elements his own hands and feet were frozen.

The screams of the little ones were heard by the neighbors, who at first were not aware of the awful act that was being enacted. Neighbors passing the house later saw what was being done. After coming to a full realization that the parents had gone insane and were in a frenzied condition toward all who attempted to interfere with what they asserted was a special order from God the spectators organized a rescue party and placed the parents in custody.

The father was overpowered only after a fierce battle. After he had been taken into the house four men were required to hold him.

Mr. Spencer is a prosperous farmer and in the community where he resides has been considered one of the most prominent citizens. Both he and his wife were devout church members and of late have made eccentric affirmations of faith. The dead infant is the youngest of three children.

WE KEEP THE QUALITY UP.

A Great Cut IN Jackets

Quality and styles considered it is the greatest cut in prices that has been made. We have 130 high class Jackets for women on hand and offer them without reserve at just 1/2 of the former prices. Do not confound these Jackets with the ordinary run of garments that are being advertised at half price.

Such a Chance...

To buy Jackets so well made and of such excellent cloths and so well lined is rare indeed. Many of them are lined with Skinner Satin, guaranteed to wear for two years.

A $10.00 Bill...

Will buy a Jacket that sold for $20, and you know what that means at this store.

A $5.00 Bill...

Takes a $10 Jacket. Think of the saving.

Capes...

Of these we have shown all the season values that have made competitors stagger. Time after time women have looked here first, then ransacked the town to try and do better, only to return satisfied that they could not find Capes that approached ours for sterling worth.

We Are Not...

Offering Capes at half price, but we are offering them very low, both cloth and Fur Capes. Our assortment of Capes is very good and at present prices like gold dollars for 90c, as we could not buy them today at the figures we are selling them for.

You Ask Why? ? ?

Because the cloth and plush they are made of are both so much higher, like many other things.

BRITONS STAND TOGETHER.

Conservatives and Liberals Agree on War Policy.

LEADERS BURY DIFFERENCES.

Augmented Scenes Mark the Opening Session of Parliament—War Will Be Vigorously Prosecuted—Little News from the Front.

London, Jan. 31.—The opening of parliament Tuesday elicited more interest than has been noted since the gloomy days of the Crimean war. Vast crowds were gathered outside both houses, and all the approaches to the legislative buildings at Westminster were packed with people. The anticipation of the proposal of a vote of censure on the government gave promise to a far more animated session than usually receives the speech from the throne. The sensationalists, however, were disappointed in their expectation of listening to fiery tirades of abusive criticism of the conduct of the war from the lips of the opposition leaders. So far from showing any disposition to comment upon the blunders of the campaign, the tone of Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman and of Lord Kimberley was decidedly sympathetic, and evinced a determination to sink all party differences and do all in their power to uphold the hands of the government in its determination to prosecute the war to a successful issue.

Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman, indeed, promised that the opposition would vote "unintended means" in order that the integrity of the empire should be preserved. He commented severely, however, on the lack of preparedness shown by the war office.

The earl of Kimberley, in his turn, blamed the government for permitting the Transvaal to stock during several years with munitions of war, and, in fact, prepare itself at every point for the conflict which it was now manifest had been long foreseen by the South African republic.

Lord Salisbury turned the tables on the noble leader of the opposition when he pointed out that the permission to make an agreement with Portugal that all munitions of war should freely enter the country by Lourenco Marques had been conceded by the Gladstone cabinet, of which Lord Kimberley was a member. He added that ignorance of the Boers' movements was largely ascribable to the fact that Great Britain spent comparatively little money for secret information.

Criticism of the government was not altogether confined to the ranks of the opposition. The duke of Somerset, for example, in moving the adoption of the address in reply to the queen's speech, said that he could not help feeling that the British military system was faulty.

"Up to the present," he said, "the army seems to have existed for the benefit of the war office; in the future the war office must exist for the benefit of the army."

The disposition among private members, generally, seems to be to abstain from criticism of individuals, but to blame the whole system.

LITTLE NEWS FROM THE FRONT.

Indications Are That Ladysmith Will Be Left to Its Fate.

London, Jan. 31.—The only important new feature of the operations in South Africa is Gen. Kelly-Kenny's occupation of Thebus station. The announcement, however, is unofficial. The strength of the column is not stated, but it is assumed here that the whole strength of the Sixth division was employed. The presumption is that the column is designed to co-operate with Gen. Gatacre against the Boers at Stormberg.

Such a decision would seem to imply that the campaign in Natal is to be left to care for itself, for if the Sixth division is at Thebus there is no other force available to turn the scale in Natal. It would also seem to imply that the relief of Ladysmith will be virtually abandoned unless Gen. Buller tries for the third time to force back the Boer army.

If the report from Cape Town is reliable such would seem to be Gen. Buller's intention. He is credited with telling Gen. Warren's division on Jan. 25 that he hoped to be in Ladysmith in a week. The nation will hardly appreciate his aspiration, in view of the painful sequel to his last prediction.

A message from Mafeking, dated Jan. 20, reports all well on that date. Kimberley is receiving severe treatment from the enemy, who, according to heliograms from the garrison, are firing indiscriminately.

The Daily Telegraph prints the following from its special correspondent: "Spearman's Camp, Jan. 27.—There has been a long train of ambulances arriving at Spearman's Camp field hospitals with the wounded."

"The Lancashire brigade sustained the heaviest losses. There was no panic. The troops retired from the hill in good order. Thornycroft's mounted infantry and the Third battalion of the King's royal rifles lost heavily. Sergeant Mason of Thornycroft's mounted infantry had a duel with three Boers, who drilled five holes through his helmet. He killed them all."

DRIVEN TO DEATH BY GHOSTS.

An Indiana Murderer Becomes the Victim of Remorse.

Enterprise, Ind., Jan. 31.—Jesse Barnes of this county, the slayer of his wife, Martha Barnes, and her paramour, C. W. Williams, is dead. Ever after the double tragedy, which was enacted on the Kentucky side of the Ohio river near Evansville, Oct. 4, 1898, Barnes was haunted by visions of his departed spouse. For several months he has been very morose, and would talk to but few persons, and only to these regarding the awful visitations he claimed to be constantly receiving. Ten days ago Barnes took to his bed, declaring that he was determined to die. Friends tried to get him to see a physician, but he declined to allow one to enter his room until he was too weak to offer remonstrances.

Police Heads Give Up Star.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 31.—A great commotion has been occasioned in municipal circles by the resignation of M. N. Goss, chief of police, and Phil Schmitzer, chief of detectives, and the announcement that Sergeants Rouley, Bahe and Pothan have been asked to hand in their stars. The city has been overrun with footpads lately, and Mayor Kiefer has recently made two raids on gambling houses with minor police officers, without consulting Chief Goss.

Workmen Blown to Atoms.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 31.—A ton and a quarter of dynamite exploded at Sibley's quarry, about seventeen miles south of Detroit, Tuesday, and blew Nelson Burbo, a workman, into atoms. People in Detroit and for many miles around thought an earthquake had occurred. The largest buildings in the city were jarred by the shock, and in the suburbs panes of glass, pictures and other articles were broken and thrown in confusion.

Denies Criticizing Mason.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Senator Mason's resolution of inquiry in regard to an alleged interview with the British consul at New Orleans, in which Mr. Mason was severely arraigned for his pro-Boer attitude, had already been forwarded by the state department, the British ambassador having been asked to investigate. The ambassador did so, and received from the consul a letter denying the interview.

Leflamby's Death a Mystery.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 31.—The death of Prof. A. Leflamby, who was found paroled in a bathtub Monday, is as much of a mystery as ever. The autopsy failed to reveal any cause of death. His brother, George Leflamby, who was found unconscious on the bathroom floor, is still unconscious. The utmost efforts of the physicians to resuscitate him have thus far proved vain.

BACON TALKS IN SENATE.

Discusses His Resolution Regarding Future of Philippines.

HE INDULGES IN RIDICULE.

Denies Occupation of Islands Will Increase American Trade—Pettigrew Asks to Have Aguinaldo's Statement Published—House Proceedings.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Mr. Bacon (dem., Ga.) addressed the senate Tuesday in advocacy of the joint resolution heretofore introduced by him, declaring the purpose of the United States with reference to the Philippine islands. Mr. Bacon argued that the acquisition of territory, where there could be no statehood, nor independent local government, could only create a dependent and subject colony, dependent on the will of the general government, and subject to its arbitrary powers. Mr. Bacon ridicules the idea that the occupation of the Philippine islands would result in the extension of American trade in the east. Without them the American trade with China has increased 250 per cent from 1889 to 1899. The great trade of the United States was with European countries, and there the United States owned no islands nor possessions. Trade went where goods were sold cheapest and best.

Mr. Bacon occupied the floor for nearly three hours, his speech attracting much attention. Preceding his speech Senator Pettigrew's resolution calling for information as to the treaty for the partition of Samoa between the United States and Germany was buried by reference to the committee on foreign relations. Mr. Pettigrew asked unanimous consent to have printed as a public document a statement by Aguinaldo of the Filipino controversy. He described it as an able document, written in an excellent temper, and one that would be of great interest to the senate and the people. Objection was made, and the matter went over until tomorrow.

The senate passed a bill granting pensions of $50 per month to the mother of Lieut. Brumby of the navy and the widow of Brig. Gen. C. E. Augur, and at 5:30 o'clock adjourned.

In the house it developed from a statement made by Mr. Dddy of Massachusetts that some persons are attempting to sell the work known as "Messages and State Papers of the Presidents" throughout the west by representing that the proceeds are to be devoted to the campaign fund of the republican campaign fund. Mr. Richardson, the democratic leader, who compiled the work, said it was issued from the presses of a reliable printing house in New York, and if such representations were being made, they were false, and would undoubtedly be stopped.

The committee of insular affairs reported the Wheeler resolutions of inquiry with amendments, and as amended they were agreed to. They direct the secretary of war and the secretary of the navy to report to the house the sums expended, and those for which the United States was made responsible on account of equipment, transportation, and army and navy supplies in the Philippines from May 1, 1898, to Nov. 1, 1899.

Bill to Check Marriages.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 31.—Gov. Thomas is giving some attention to a bill that will, if passed, place the granting of marriage licenses in the hands of a board of medical examiners. In brief, the bill provides for a board of medical examiners in each county to consist of three physicians, no two to come of the same school, and where possible the board is to have one or more female members. The board shall have power to examine all persons seeking to marry, and to refuse permission to all who are not mentally and physically equipped to enter the marriage state.

Rich Men to the Rescue.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 31.—The board of directors of the Manufacturers' club, composed of the wealthiest and most influential business men of the city, has adopted a resolution expressing approval of the work done by the sub-committee of the Citizens' National Convention association, pledged hearty support to that body and protested against any interference with its work. This assures the success of the fund for the national republican convention. President Schwab of the Carnegie Steel company has sent a check for $2,000 to the committee.

Aid for Wounded Boers.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—The local committee, having in charge the collection of funds for sick and wounded Boers has reports from all parts of the state showing that subscriptions are being made in all the cities and towns. The amount now subscribed is in excess of $5,000, and it is believed it will reach $10,000 before the subscriptions are called in. The committee reports that the people appear to be greatly excited by the events of the war and the sympathy with the Boers is general.

CAMPBELL AND BUNDY SENT TO PRISON

PRISONERS BOTH RECEIVE LIGHT SENTENCES.

Assaulted Beloit Young Lady in Order to Secure Her Wages—Bundy Has Been Arrested Before—Both Admitted That Liquor Resulted in Their Downfall.

William Campbell and Harry Bundy, residents of Beloit, appeared before Judge C. L. Field of the Rock county municipal court this morning at 10 o'clock, and were each sentenced to the state prison at Waupun. Campbell received a one year sentence while Bundy was sentenced to a term of one year and two months.

Under Sheriff E. D. Roberts left on the noon train with the prisoners whose terms commence at 12 o'clock noon today. Campbell and Bundy pleaded guilty to the charge of assaulting Miss Sarah Snyder of Beloit on the evening of Saturday, January 20.

The prisoners made a bold attempt at a holdup but were not rewarded with much cash for their trouble. The assault was committed on the streets of Beloit. Miss Snyder was knocked down but only slightly injured.

When the case was called in court this morning Bundy was the first prisoner to face the bar of justice. He stated that he was twenty-two years of age and that Beloit was his home. He said that he had twice before been arrested and that at times he drank hard. He said that he and Campbell assaulted Miss Snyder while intoxicated and that alcohol was enough to make anyone crazy. Bundy said that he was married and that he was a lather by trade. Upon his release he said that he hoped to lead the life of a better man.

Campbell then stood up and admitted that he was subject to strong drink and that he and Bundy were drunk when they met Miss Snyder. Judge Field administered a good lecture that both young men will do well to follow on their release. He advised them to be better men for their relatives sake if nothing else. During the judge's good words of advice the youthful prisoners listened closely and seemed to be affected.

At the close of the trial Campbell walked up to District Attorney Jackson and in a business like way informed him that Devers and Tobin, now in jail on the same charge, had nothing to do with the crime and that both are innocent.

Both Devers and Tobin will be released.

TELEPHONE RATES GO STILL LOWER

THE LOCAL COMPANIES ORDER ANOTHER CUT.

This Time it Makes Talk Between Janesville and Beloit Very Cheap—Talk Five Minutes For Ten Cents—May Soon Mean Lower Rates to Other Towns.

Residents of Janesville and Beloit may now engage in conversation for the small sum of ten cents.

The Wisconsin and Rock County Telephone companies today announced another cut rate in toll line charges from this city to go into effect at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. For each additional minute's talk between here and the Line City the small sum of two cents will be charged by the Wisconsin company, whose rate will be ten cents for three minutes conversation.

The Rock County Telephone company came forward today with an announced rate of ten cents for a five minute talk.

It is also said that the Wisconsin company intend soon to lower the toll rates out of Janesville in other directions. At present Manager Slater of the local exchange has received no definite instruction in this respect aside from the cut rate made to Beloit.

The old rate of charges between this city and Beloit over the lines of the Wisconsin and Rock County Telephone Company has been fifteen cents for a message. Whether or not the company will make another cut remains to be seen.

LECTURE BY FRANK EMERY

Held at the Y. M. C. A. Building Proves Instructive.

At the Y. M. C. A. building last evening Frank Emery Lyon of Chicago gave his lecture on "The Art of Living". Other attractions together with the severe weather resulted in a small audience. The next number on the course will be a concert by the Y. M. C. A. band, assisted by Mrs. Janet B. Day, the elocutionist, and a soprano soloist. The date will be Tuesday, February 13th.

The local morning paper was somewhat annoyed because there was no humor in the lecture and concluded therefore it bored the large and intelligent audience present who seemed to enjoy the address very much. Supt. Mayo says it was the best effort he had ever heard of on the subject.

Notice to Stockholders.

SCHOOL TEACHERS TO MEET AT RACINE

PROGRAM FOR SOUTHERN WISCONSIN PEDAGOGUES.

Extensive Arrangements for the Session on April 6-7 Next—Among the New Features Will be a School Board Section—Interesting Section Meetings.

Extensive arrangements are under way at Racine for the entertainment of the hundreds of school teachers who will assemble in that city April 6 and 7 to attend the tenth annual meeting of the Southern Teachers' Association. An interesting program is being prepared. As usual at educational conventions, the meeting, after the first day, will be divided into sections for the discussion of different phases of the public school problems.

Among the new features will be a School Board section in charge of William George Bruce of Milwaukee, publisher American School Board Journal. His name at the head of the section is a guarantee of a lively meeting. It is expected that many school board members from the southern half of the state will attend the meetings of this section to discuss educational questions from the school board point of view.

The other sections of Saturday's meeting will be a High School Section in charge of E. E. Converse, Beloit; a Graded School section, H. L. Terry, Waukesha, leader, and a Common School section, William Griffith, Wilmet, leader.

In place of the usually dry and prosaic discourse along some abstract line of pedagogic thought which at past educational conventions have overwhelmed, or, as was of oftener the case, put to sleep those pedagogues so glibly as to attend the evening lecture, President Natrass has secured the services of Booker T. Washington, who will deliver his live, popular lecture on "The Negro Problem in the South." The lecture will be free to all members of the association.

The officers of the association are: President, J. H. Natrass, Stullsville; vice-presidents, H. C. Buell, Whitewater; Agnes Hobard, Lake Mills; secretary, G. H. Landgraf, Menasha; treasurer, C. D. Kipp, Elkhorn.

SOLD meat, large, white, bulk oysters 30 cents per quart. We sell more and have them fresher than any house in the city. W. W. Nash.

RUSH FOR PARTNERS

Scramble at Madison to Fill Junior Prom Dance Program—Grand Decorations.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 31—The telephones of the city of Madison were besieged by students from noon until late at night yesterday to engage dances for the Junior "prom," which is still a few weeks distant. When the tickets were placed on sale at noon 185 were bought within three-quarters of an hour and it is given out by lively men that every available back in town for such functions had been spoken for over a month ago.

The "prom" this year has every promise of being the most elaborate event known in the history of the university. The big gymnasium is to be most lavishly decorated for the occasion, practically without regard to expense. A rather novel feature this year will be a bandstand suspended in air from the girders of hall. Heretofore a stand has been erected from the floor on the inside of the hall. The entire interior of the gymnasium will be draped with white and red bunting, which will make a most striking effect with some 700 or 800 incandescent lights to illuminate it. At the lower end of the hall a stand will be erected and draped for patronesses and above this "1901" will be seen in cardinal lights. The other lights will be interchangeable, white and cardinal, which will be used alternately during two dances through the entire evening.

A program of twenty-five dances was announced yesterday. Four of these will be triple dances, i. e. each made up of three dances of a different step. There will also be two redows one of which will be the "dark" dance when all the lights in the hall are turned off. Kree's orchestra of Chicago has been engaged to furnish the music.

JOHN CURRIER IS INJURED

No Policeman to Be Found, Bystanders Assisted the Unfortunate Man

John Currier accidentally fell at the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets at 2 o'clock this afternoon and for a time it was feared that the had fractured the bones in his left leg. He was intoxicated. After a fifteen minute hunt for a policeman bystanders became disgusted and assisted the unfortunate man to the office of Dr. James Gibson. Currier was then placed on the operating table. A close examination revealed a badly bruised left hip and ankle but no fractured bones.

REFUSE TO SETTLE FUNERAL BENEFIT

ODD FELLOWS WANT PROOF OF PFENNIG DEATH.

Son Makes Demand For Benefit Fund of Eighty Dollars—Members of Local Order Say That No Evidence Has Ever Been Produced That Shows That Max Pfennig Met Death.

Members of the local Odd Fellows Social and Beneficial club have refused to pay the funeral benefit fund on account of the alleged death of Max Pfennig. For the lack of sufficient proof of Mr. Pfennig's demise, the organization refuses to settle the funeral benefit amounting to $80.

William M. Pfennig, son of Max Pfennig, made application for the payment of the benefit on the grounds that his father is dead.

Members of the Odd Fellows Social and Beneficial club state that Mr. Pfennig has no positive proof of his father's death and that not until this proof is produced will they pay the $80.

A prominent officer of the local order said: "Max Pfennig was one of our first members. We always held him in the highest esteem. If we were only positive that Mr. Pfennig was dead we would be ready to pay the funeral benefit fund, which amounts to $80. But we have no positive proof. It is said that Mr. Pfennig's body is in Lake Michigan. It has never been discovered, nor has any convincing proof ever been produced that Mr. Pfennig even came to his death. Until this proof is produced, there will be no formal benefit paid by our company."

The Odd Fellows' Social and Benevolent club is an organization connected with the local Odd Fellows' lodge.

Following are the officers: President, B. F. Blanchard; secretary, A. H. Taylor; treasurer, William Burchell.

A HEART OF PEARLS

A loud burst of applause greeted the famous singer Olympia as she finished the queen's song at the Gaiety theater.

Of Olympia's origin nothing was known, though there were many stories circulating about her. The one which gained most general credence portrayed her as a great lady who had been driven irresistibly from a high social position to the stage and thereupon disowned by her family. The only certainty felt about her was that her reputation was irreproachable and that she kept the scores of adores constantly rotating about her at a respectful distance.

When the song ended, the queen retired to a throne to receive the homage of the subjects in the play. It was a sumptuous procession which passed before her in gorgeous costume. Each subject as he passed before his queen stopped, bowed and then moved on to make room for the next. One among the number had excited her interest and sympathy. He seemed different from the others; his bearing was dignified, his face refined, his manners perfect. That he had suffered some misfortune she felt as sure as that he was worthy of something better than a humble part in a fairy opera.

When the play was over, she pointed him out to the manager.

"Who is that man?" she asked.

"A poor devil named Chatelain," replied the manager. "There are hundreds like him, doing this kind of work for 2 francs a day."

The manager was mistaken. His "poor devil Chatelain" was in reality a Spanish gentleman named Juan Rodriguez de Penafior. Born in Madrid, raised in the midst of luxury, he had inherited at his parents' death an enormous fortune.

Through bad management and extravagance, this had gradually been reduced until only a small part remained. This Juan thought to use in the only way he knew as a means of redeeming the whole, at the gaming table, and here he lost all that was left to him.

It was at this time and under these circumstances that he fell in love with Olympia. The very hopelessness of his passion deepened it, and he worshipped her as a Greek might have worshipped a goddess. It was through his love that the greatest temptation of his life came to him.

On one of the most frequented boulevards in a jeweler's window he had noticed an exquisite piece of jewelry—a heart of pearls—and from the moment his eyes fell upon it he had longed to possess it in order to present it to his queen as a token of his adoration.

One day the heart was gone from the window, and Juan could see it inside the shop, lying, with many other pieces, on the counter. He stepped inside, where several people stood looking at all sorts of beautiful things displayed by the jeweler.

The heart of pearls was pushed a little away from the others. The people were not looking his way. His hand stole out and slowly moved toward the cherished object. He stopped cautiously to make sure he was undiscovered and looked straight into the face of Olympia, the singer, who was standing just behind him.

"I saw you and followed you in," she continued. "I have wanted to speak to you for a very long time. I am sure that you can find something better than your present position at the Gaiety. If you will take my card to Roberts, the theatrical agent, I am sure he can find you something more suited to you." And she drew a card from her pocketbook and wrote an address on it with a little gold pencil and handed it to Juan.

He managed to stammer his thanks, and she left him without knowing what she had saved him from.

Sleep did not come to Juan that night. Looking over his next morning's paper his eyes fell upon the following announcement:

"Don Jaime de Penafior, who died recently at Madrid, has left his entire fortune to his nephew, Juan Rodriguez de Penafior, who left Spain some years ago. Every effort is being made to find him."

The beautiful singer Olympia had just returned to Paris from a successful tour through Europe, and every seat in the house was sold for the opening night.

When the actress entered her dressing room, on the table lay a large bunch of lilies of the valley, and beside them a small jeweler's box. She opened it and saw lying on the white velvet a beautiful heart of pearls of exquisite workmanship. The name on the card was strange to her—"Don Juan de Penafior."

After her last triumphant appearance that evening a card was brought to her bearing the same name.

"I will see him," she said to the boy.

When he came, she recognized him instantly, and it was her turn to be confused.

"You are not M. Chatelain?" she said.

"No, mademoiselle; I have come to my own again," he replied simply. "But I have never forgotten your kindness."

"I must thank you for your gifts," said Olympia. "The flowers I will keep, but the pearls I must ask you to take, as I cannot accept them. They are much too precious for a singer who thinks only of her art."

"If Olympia cannot accept them as a singer, can she not do so as the promised wife of the Marquis de Penafior?"

At the close of Olympia's Paris engagement a simple wedding took place at a little suburban chapel covered with ivy. The bride carried lilies of the valley and her only ornament was a heart of pearls.

Flowers in New York Hotels.

Flowers have come to be nearly as important a department in some of the New York hotels as the more material features of their administration, and one of them employs five florists, who attend to the decoration of the tables. In the public restaurants, by the terms of the contract with the dealer who supplies the hotel with flowers, he is compelled every 24 hours to supply an entirely fresh stock. Even the blossoms, which are but little faded, cannot be used in preparing the decorations for the next day. Three of the men employed to take care of the flowers work during the day, while their associates devote their time to the evening hours. The flowers which have been used only one day are not wasted, nor do they follow the gradual decline which ultimately leads to the street peddler. The dealer who supplies them uses them for frequent private dinners, dances and other social incidents which occur almost daily at the hotels.—New York Sun.

Hurdwar Pilgrimage.

Hurdwar stands on the west bank of the River Ganges at the point where it emerges from the sub-Himalayas into the plains of Hindustan, and from its position on the sacred stream it attracts immense numbers of pilgrims for the purpose of ablution. The orthodox time for the pilgrimage is the end of March and the beginning of April, at which time a great fair is held, thus grafting commerce on religion. The attendance amounts, in ordinary years, to 200,000 or 300,000, but every twelfth year the festival attracts about 2,000,000 people.

The Use of Cosmetics.

The cosmetic arts are older than any other beautifying devices. The women of biblical days laid tremendous stress upon all sorts of unguents, oils, pomades and perfumes; and no elegant persons would go out into the streets unless they were scented therewith. No odor was esteemed as no breeding. We differ from the ancients. Cleanliness of person is now the requirement.

Little Pimples Turn to Cancer.

Cancer often results from an impurity in the blood, inherited from generations back. Few people are entirely free from some taint in the blood, and it is impossible to tell when it will break out in the form of dreaded Cancer. What has appeared to be a mere pimple or scratch has developed into the most malignant Cancer.

"I had a severe Cancer which was at first only a few blotches, that I thought would soon pass away. I was treated by several able physicians, but in spite of their efforts the Cancer spread until my condition became alarming. After many months of treatment and growing steadily worse, I decided to try S. S. S., which was so strongly recommended. The first bottle produced an improvement. I continued the medicine, and in four months the last little scab dropped off. Ten years have elapsed, and not a sign of the disease has returned."

It is dangerous to experiment with Cancer. The disease is beyond the skill of physicians. S. S. S. is the only cure, because it is the only remedy which goes deep enough to reach Cancer.

S.S.S. For The Blood

(Swift's Specific) is the only blood remedy guaranteed Purely Vegetable. All others contain potash and mercury, the most dangerous of minerals. Books on Cancer and blood diseases mailed free by Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

A Detailed Map of Rock County . . .

Work is now in progress on a new wall map for Rock County. In size it will be 42x47 inches, mounted on cloth, and each township (of which there are twenty) will be neatly colored. The county will be represented on the scale of 1½ inches to the mile and will show the location of streams, lakes, cities, villages, school houses, churches, town houses and residences, public roads and railroads. It will also locate the farms, giving the number of acres and the name of the present owners wherever it is possible to do so. As fast as the drawings of the townships are completed they are verified so that the map will be as nearly correct as possible. The work will be of great value to business and professional men and farmers, and should find place in every school house in the county. The last wall map of the county was made a great many years ago, so that this new one will fill a long felt want.

The Price is $6.00.

Only enough of the Maps will be printed to fill orders. This fact should be borne in mind by those interested. Agents will begin the work of canvassing at once; orders may be given them and may also be sent to us in care of The Gazette office. If you will send in your name a representative will call and give more information if necessary.

Wis. 1900
